

28 February 2008

For Immediate Release

Completion of Phase 1 Capacity Expansion Roadmap

China Mobile Technology Limited, a leading mobile handset manufacturer in the PRC, today announced that the 1st phase of capacity expansion at its newly acquired land in Long Gang industrial park (龙岗宝龙工业城) park has been completed and the production, design, research and developments business units have been incorporated together within the new facilities.

“We are very pleased with the completion of our 1st phase of capacity expansion, which was one month ahead of schedule. This would enable us to quickly consolidate our core business units together and derive greater synergies as planned.” said Ms. Helen Yang, Chief Executive Officer of China Mobile Technology.

Added Ms. Helen Yang: “We are poised to meet the strong market demand for our products with our increased capacity to be operational in the third and fourth quarter of 2008. With the commencement of operations of our new GSM production line in the third quarter of 2008, the annual production capacity of GSM will increase to 200,000 units per month.”

Barring unforeseen circumstances, the Group expects demand for the Group’s products to remain strong in the PRC.

Ms. Yang further elaborated: “With Phase 1 completed, the Group is embarking on Phase 2 that will encompass a larger area of warehousing and production facilities in anticipation of higher demand.”

Going forward, the Group is looking at expanding its business through mergers and acquisitions of major telecommunications companies within the PRC, as well as diversifies its business in the international market. These initiatives represent the management’s commitment to increase shareholders’ return and create long term growth.

---

About China Mobile Technology Limited

China Mobile Technology Limited provides comprehensive and integrated design and production facilities for mobile handsets, which includes ODM manufacturing and handset design solutions.

Located in Longgang Industrial Park, Shenzhen, PRC, China Mobile Technology was awarded the ISO 9001 certification for its quality management system. Built on the strength of its management team which has over 20 years of experience in the mobile communication industry, China Mobile Technology’s extensive sales and distribution network cover all major business centers in the PRC.